-What do you need to get it ? 1 picture of yourself.

2) Getting the Permesso di Soggiorno (for non-EU)

-First you have to go to the Post Office (Poste Italiane) (<http://www.poste.it/online/cercaup/>) with the service called 'Sportello Amico' (Make sure to check before going, you can check it on-line). There you have to ask for the Permesso di Soggiorno kit. (It is free).

-Second: fill out the documents in the kit using the English guide in this You Tube link

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZNTiET-5Kaw>

-Third: go again to Poste Italiane with the kit and give it to them. (Pay attention to put all the documents that are necessary inside the envelope of the kit)

-Fourth: you have to pay (around 120 euro) to Poste Italiane and get a receipt which you must keep very carefully. In addition, they will give you a date and address where you will have to be present for the appointment.

-Fifth: Then you go to a police station to get the Permesso di Soggiorno card. You can get an update about the specific police station to see if your permesso is ready through the web using your personal password in the receipt: <http://questure.poliziadistato.it/stranieri/> . This usually takes about 1-2 months.

Their official websites usually list a tab called distretti (districts) in their navigation bar or sidebar menu. To begin the registration process, go to the nearest ASL center and bring along the following documents:

 - fiscal code (codice fiscale)
 - residence permit/permesso di soggiorno (or proof that you have applied for one)
 - Proof of address (e.g. residence certificate, rental contract, etc.)
- After filling out the necessary forms, you will receive your health card (tesserino sanitario personale) and be assigned a general practitioner (medico di base). If you are not content with your original GP, you can look for a new family doctor whenever you want.

ASL card is valid from the date that you get it until the end of the year (until December 31st), so it is better to get it in January so it will be valid for one full year.
